

Connecting Places That Have Maintained Strength

唐津の魅力を結ぶ

Ibrahim Zakaria Bahreldin • Manami Fujiwara • Eduardo Guerrero
Ishihara Masaya • Anna Robinson • Tripti Sharma • Xiangwang Meng

Master Plan マスタープラン

2010 AIJ International Architectural & Urban Design Workshop in Karatsu, Japan

「交・まじわり」が編み出す魅力ある唐津へ

Innovating KARATSU through "New Exchange"

Connecting Places That Have Maintained Strength

唐津の魅力を結ぶ

Ibrahim Zakaria Bahreldin • Manami Fujiwara • Eduardo Guerrero
Ishihara Masaya • Anna Robinson • Tripti Sharma • Xiangwang Meng

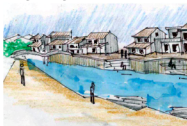

Choda River 町田川

Existing Plan Proposed Plan

Existing View Along the Creek

Proposed Residential Along the Creek

Historic Moat 歴史的な堀

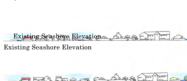

Existing Proposed Existing Section

Proposed Axis to Sea

Proposed Residential as Infill

Existing Seashore Elevation
Proposed Seashore Elevation

Castle District 城エリア

Proposed Plan

Proposed Deck

Proposed Plaza

Seashore 海岸エリア

Proposed Infill Plan

Proposed Infill Section

View Corridors to the Sea

海への視線の抜け

Existing View to the Sea

Proposed View to the Sea

Existing View to the Sea

Proposed View to the Sea

Proposed View

Existing View

Connecting Places That Have Maintained Strength

唐津の魅力を結ぶ

Ibrahim Zakaria Bahreldin • Manami Fujiwara • Eduardo Guerrero
Ishihara Masaya • Anna Robinson • Tripti Sharma • Xiangwang Meng

Shrine District 神社エリア

Proposed Facade Renovation

Proposed Infill Shops

Section A

Section B

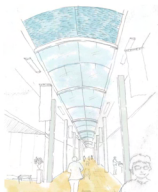

Section C

Merchant District 商店街エリア

Development Strategy:

- Strengthen the north-south connections primary "pedestrian connector" by strengthening the existing street typologies
- Creating transit areas on the edges of the pedestrian corridors
- Functional infill along the pedestrian corridor at both street and block levels
- A boundary of green belt

Proposed Roof Detail

Proposed Development Along Nakamachi

Proposed Development Along Nakamachi

Proposed Temple Area Entrance

Proposed Temple Entrance Space

2010 AIJ International Architectural & Urban Design Workshop in Karatsu, Japan

「交・まじわり」が編み出す魅力ある唐津へ

Innovating KARATSU through "New Exchange"